

If you have CLL or need to know more, you cannot miss this session from an international CLL expert

SAVE THE DATE – Tuesday 18th August. This will be a virtual event.

Associate Professor
Matthew Davids

Dr Matthew Davids is an Associate Professor of Medicine at Harvard Medical School, Director of Clinical Research in the Division of Lymphoma, and Associate Director of the CLL Center at Dana-Farber Cancer Institute. He is a leading investigator in the clinical development of the Bcl-2 inhibitor venetoclax. He runs a research laboratory focused on CLL and leads numerous clinical trials of novel agent combination regimens for patients with CLL.

Dr. Jason Butler

Dr. Brian Koffman

Dr. Brian Koffman, a well-known doctor, educator and clinical professor turned patient has dedicated himself to teaching and helping the CLL community since his diagnosis in 2005. Dr. Koffman believes that his dual status as a physician and patient provides a unique experience and understanding which allows him to provide clear explanations of complex issues and to advocate for his fellow patients and inform his fellow healthcare providers. Brian will be joining us from California, and he is a long-term friend and supporter of Lymphoma Australia.

Deborah Sims

Deborah Sims is a CLL patient, young mother of 3 and a tireless patient advocate after being diagnosed with CLL in 2011. Deborah has fought to have access to the life-saving treatments and continues to fight for others to ensure there is equitable access for all patients. Deborah is currently well and on the BTK inhibitor ibrutinib whilst awaiting enrolment on a CAR T cell therapy trial in Australia.
